

Front Porch Productions Booking Community

Connecting the Church with the Music...

Serving the Local Church

We here at Front Porch Productions are committed to helping the local church access music talent that is traveling across Canada and Western USA, and also to be aware of local talent that is in their area.

We do this by emailing* a participating church or organization with a regular newsletter with information of music artists and groups traveling in the area up to six months in advance, giving time for them to book a concert.

There is no cost to churches for this email service, as we retain a small portion from the artist for each venue booked.

Our Vision

In our world today Christian music has too often become more of a music business than a ministry. While this is the goal of some artists and we do support them in it, we believe that if an artist feels that ministry must take a front seat to the business side of music, than we will help them achieve this end.

Our service is both to the local church as well as to the artist as we strive to support Canadian Christian Music.

Book Through Front Porch Productions and Get ...

- be informed of upcoming tours well in advance
- up to date artist information
- know exactly when an artist is available
- save time as we will arrange the date for you
- no cost to the church for this service
- no commitment to book any one artist
- to begin just fill out the contact form or give us a call

As you gain access to the monthly newsletter, you will know ahead of time the dates that various artist are available and what they require form a church to host them.

House Concerts

Often artists will do an acoustic home concert on weeknights as they fill dates between weekend stops. This is a great opportunity for church home cell groups or youth groups to see artists on a personal level. It is also a great way to raise money. moneyfor a local cause as well.

Front Porch Productions is a division of Front Porch Records, a small independent label in southern Alberta and began as the promoter for the band Porchlite. We have since expanded to include a non-exclusive booking service as well as song publishing for local writers.

* Your church email will not be shared or given out

Front Porch Productions

...connecting the church with the music ...
Box 174 Champion AB Canada T0L 0R0
(403)315-2199 info@frontporchrecords.com